FARM BUILDINGS

LIBERTY FARM BUILDINGS

CUSTOM DESIGNED FOR YOUR NEEDS

At Liberty Building Systems™, we pride ourselves on providing hundreds of satisfied farmers with quality, cost-effective pre-engineered metal building systems. From elaborate dairy and beef barns to roof-only structures, we can equip you with a building that supports your entire agricultural operation. Liberty can even design a multi-use facility for your specific application to maximize your space and budget. Designed to meet or exceed local building codes, our durable metal buildings are virtually maintenance-free—they will not rot and are not susceptible to mold and termite infestation.

SUPERIOR ACCOMODATION AND PROTECTION

Today's farm buildings must house and protect large farm equipment, and Liberty has building solutions to easily meet those needs. When you require a spacious, column-free interior, our clearspan steel framing provides the perfect economical solution, especially for buildings more than 60 feet wide. We can provide you with a building to accommodate a concrete foundation or concrete footings or piers. Plus, we offer design flexibility that allows for a variety of door options, including:

- Walk doors
- Overhead doors
- Sliding doors
- Hydroswing doors
- Bi-fold doors

BUILDING PRODUCTS MANUFACTURED TO LAST

Liberty's complete line of building products is ideally suited for farmers. For superior protection against rust, we offer acrylic-coated G30 galvanized secondary framing at no additional cost. Our assortment of low-maintenance wall and roof panels are available in an array of colors, so you can mix and match your building's walls and roof with trim for an attractive, customized appearance. And to ensure your building continues to shine throughout the years, Liberty offers two paint finishes, FreedomCote™ and Kynar, that provide superior protection from the elements and resistance to chalking and fading.

WHY LIBERTY BUILDING SYSTEMS

One of the major advantages of purchasing a metal building from Liberty is the personalized and friendly customer service you receive throughout the entire process. Liberty's knowledgeable sales and engineering staff work closely with you to achieve a building that suits your specific farming needs and budget. As an added benefit, you will be assigned a project manager who will keep you updated on the status of your building from order to delivery. Finally, with multiple plants strategically located throughout the United States, we can offer on-time deliveries and lower freight costs, so you get your building faster.
